John Guerard, 1112 S. Sheridan st., Corona, Calif., RaTel, '50, a recent visitor to the school, was of particular interest to members of the radio club, pictured above. Guerard was among the students instrumental in establishing the club in permanent quarters in the building.

With Guerard, seated at the controls, are, from left, Louis E. Rosano, Middleton, Conn., Charles H. Jacobsen, Hammond, La., and Paul D. Vincent, Fayetteville, N. C., officers of the radio club.

Guerard is now an electronics technician at the naval ordnance laboratory, Corona, Calif., where he is working with guided missiles. His call letters there, in case any of the MSOE "hams" are interested, are W6RNA.
